

OUR NWC PACKING GUIDE: WHAT YOU SHOULD BRING

This is it. There are only a few more weeks left before you embark on your journey to a new and foreign place. Sometimes, one of the hardest things to do is to remember to pack everything and to make sure that nothing of importance and value gets left behind. The following list is to help you pack and for you to think about things that may be useful at Northwest College. Keep in mind though; a lot of these items, such as clothes and electronics, can be purchased around the Powell area.

Important documents- These are the most essential documents to bring and to have with you. It would be best to obtain English translations of these documents and have them certified by a U.S. educational advising center or a U.S.

Cultural Artifacts- These are the things that you will most likely not find anywhere around here. Every year, NWC holds the Multicultural Showcase. Throughout that day, students wear their traditional clothes, put on various performances, set up displays about their countries and cultures, and cook a traditional dish from their home. Furthermore, during their stay here in Powell, students are always encouraged to share their culture with other students, the college, and the community. This next set of items is always good to purchase them over the internet or ask your family or friends to send them to you at the last minute.

Traditional clothes from your country

Spices, food, or other ingredients you may need to prepare traditional dishes from home
Arts, crafts, and other artifacts that may be used for displays, auctions, or other cultural events

Movies, presentations, catalogues, and brochures about your country that can be used for sharing with other students, your friendship family, the campus, and the surrounding community.

Bedding (some students have expressed the fact that they miss their bedding from home. Keep in mind however, that bedding takes up a lot of space in your suitcase. More so, bedding is readily available here in Powell and Cody).

Again, we are so happy that you have chosen Northwest College and welcome you to our campus. We want for you to have a wonderful experience while you are staying here in Powell. Remember, this packing list is to help you. Should you have any questions or concerns, please contact any of us at any time.
